Okehampton Lydford Devon EX20 4BL

The Old Railway Cottage is one of four terraced cottages sitting just outside the village of Lydford and on the edge of the open access land of Dartmoor National Park.

'We loved stepping out onto the moor everyday, fantastic location for being right on Dartmoor National Park with lovely views!'

The cottages were once rail workers cottages for the old Southern Railway line that runs from Okehampton to Plymouth and Launceston. The railway itself has been removed however the bridges and where the track used to run is still able to be seen, as well as the cottages that were home to the lines workers. Easily accessible but up a privet drive, the cottage sits in a quiet area of Dartmoor. There is a front porch for coats and muddy boots, a lovely lounge with a log burner and a fully equipped kitchen.

Situated on the edge of the lake, with stunning views in all directions, the café at Roadford Lake is the perfect place for a refreshing drink and slice of cake with friends and family. They offer locally sourced produce, including great coffee from Okehampton.

The cafe always aims to help protect the environment, by reducing use of plastic, keeping food miles low and recycling as much as possible. They try not to use disposables, but when they do, you can be sure that everything is fully compostable and they even use that compost to grow their own herbs.

The cafe is open 7 days a week, 9am-4pm, with indoor and outdoor seating available. They are currently offering hot lunches Monday to Friday 12pm-3pm. Coffee and cakes plus pasties and sausage rolls are available on Saturdays and Sundays and they have a full range of hot and cold drinks as well as ice cream!
